Business Overview (FY2021)

In fiscal year 2021, due to the impact of policy decisions such as the issuing and subsequent extension of the declaration of a state of emergency related to the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic, limits were placed on the number of participants for events and people refrained from domestic and international travel for long periods of time. As a result, it was an extremely difficult year for the MICE industry, which handles international conferences, exhibitions, and similar events. In the midst of this, although our businesses were subject to various limitations, we continued carrying out initiatives aiming to balance COVID-19 infection prevention and economic activities.

In the Venue Operation Business, the International Broadcasting Center (IBC) and Main Press Center (MPC) facilities set up at Tokyo Big Sight were used for the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games by media personnel from all over the world. After the Paralympic Games ended, exhibition events were restarted in September, and full-scale utilization of the 116,000m² of exhibition spaces was resumed from December, with thorough safety and security measures in place.

In the Exhibition Hosting Business, we hosted events such as the Risk Control Expo "RISCON TOKYO 2021," which features a collection of the latest information and products related to risk management, and Small and Medium Business Market Tokyo 2022.

In the Building Management Business, we increased opportunities for communicating with existing tenants and strengthened our relationships with them while also striving to understand and handle client needs, linking to improved customer satisfaction. In addition, we provided flexible services to meet usage needs, making efforts to increase occupancy rates and secure new tenants.

◆ Year-Long Initiatives

● CS Surveys

We implement regular CS surveys of tenants in each building. Once again in fiscal year 2021, we carried out improvement initiatives based on the results of these surveys. We expanded the lunch space for tenant employees to reduce congestion during lunch hours and also expanded our boxed meal sales. In addition, we established delivery lockers inside the grounds for improved convenience at the TFT Building. These delivery lockers are preferred because no face-to-face meeting is required and the receiving side is able to take packages out at any time, ensuring there will be no missed deliveries.

● Ariake Area Management Council Activities

Together with businesses in the Ariake South area, we founded the Ariake Area Management Council in 2014 and are currently running its executive office. Although this council put its activities on hold from March 2020 due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, following a meeting of the persons in charge held in November 2021, activities were restarted. While paying close attention to COVID-19 pandemic conditions, we will continue to consider initiatives for contribution to improving the appeal of the Ariake South area and increasing satisfaction among those who work and study there.

● Introduction of Ele-cinema

Ele-cinema is a type of projection media that uses a projector to display images inside of elevators. It was introduced in a portion of the TFT Building elevators in November 2021. The broadcast content includes the latest news, weather reports, commercials, and other information targeted to business persons, as well as notifications from the TFT Building's management (the Company). This technology has eliminated the need for distributing paper flyers and posting information for these notifications, and has also enabled them to reach a larger number of office workers.

● Sustainable Christmas Decorations

The Christmas decorations used each year in the TFT Building have been updated. In consideration for the SDGs, we reused flowers planned for disposal in these decorations. An event was held to allow office workers to insert these flowers into the decorations themselves, and on the final day of their display, they were distributed to the office workers to take home. This initiative was carried out with the goal of achieving sustainability that also provides a little bit of happiness to all the office workers.
